

Anjali joined MAI Family Services 11 years back. She started off as a volunteer case worker. Today she is a full time staff and works as a Clinical Services Coordinator. Apart from being a case worker, she provides supervision to other case workers and oversees all the direct services provided to clients. She has provided strategic and operational direction to MAI Family Services over the last several years. Anjali has a double Master's Degree in Counseling. She has always had a keen interest in working on Women's issues. In the last 11 years, Anjali has helped several women in the community who were victims of Domestic Violence. Anjali has worked outside MAI Family Services, but says that her work at MAI Family Services has been intensely gratifying and the fact that she makes a difference in some one's life within her own community everyday is very rewarding.
